Introduction

1.1. The policy applies to all permanent and short-term employees working with or assisting in Whamos Training and Development CIC who have major concerns over any wrong doing relating to unlawful conduct, financial malpractice or dangers to the public or the environment.

1.2. The staff and Directs of Whamos Training and Development CIC seek to run all aspects of training business and activity with full regard for high standards of conduct and integrity. In the event that members of staff, volunteers, students become aware of activities which give cause for concern, this confidential reporting code acts as a framework to allow concerns to be raised confidentially and provides for a thorough and appropriate investigation of the matter to bring it to a satisfactory conclusion.

1.3. The directors of Whamos Training and Development CIC are committed to tackling fraud and other forms of malpractice and treats these issues seriously. Some examples of malpractice is set out in paragraph 2.4. Whamos Training and Development CIC recognise that some concerns may be extremely sensitive and have therefore developed a system which allows for the confidential raising of concerns within the training environment but also has recourse to an external party outside the management structure of the school as set out in paragraph 8.7.

1.4. The provisions of this Code apply to matters of suspected fraud and impropriety and not matters of more general grievance which would be dealt with under the Whamos Training and Development CIC grievance policies.

1.5. Whamos Training and Development CIC are committed to creating a climate of trust and openness so that a person who has a genuine concern or suspicion can raise the matter with full confidence that the matter will be appropriately considered and resolved.

1.6. This Code sets out a framework within which you can raise concerns without fear of victimisation, subsequent discrimination or disadvantage. The Code is intended to encourage and enable serious concerns to be raised rather than overlooking a problem.

You may wish to seek support and advice from your trade union about this Code.

1.7. This code has been adopted by the Whamos Training and Development CIC and has been the subject of consultation with recognised trade unions, and approved by elected members.

Aims and scope of this code

2.1 This code aims to:

- encourage you to feel confident in raising serious concerns and to question and act upon concerns about practice;
- provide avenues for you to raise those concerns and receive feedback on any action taken;

- reassure you that you will be protected from possible reprisals or victimisation if you have a reasonable belief that you have made any disclosure in good faith.
- This Code is not intended to be used where other, more appropriate; procedures are available. 3.1 All employees in or working with or assisting Whamos Training and Development CIC may use this Code. This includes permanent and temporary employees, and employees seconded to a third party. It is also applicable to:

- Contractors working for Whamos Training and Development CIC premises, for example, agency staff, builders, drivers;
- Suppliers and those providing services under a contract with Whamos Training and Development CIC in their own premises.

Any concerns relating to the third party, if relevant to the employee's secondment, can also be raised under this Code.

Safeguards

4.1 Directors, training staff are committed to good practice and high standards and want to be supportive of employees.

4.2 Whamos Training and Development CIC recognise that the decision to report a concern can be a difficult one to make. If what you are saying is true, you should have nothing to fear because you will be doing your duty to your employer and those for whom you are providing a service.

4.3 Directors, training staff will not tolerate any harassment or victimisation (including informal pressures) and will take appropriate action to protect you when you raise a concern in good faith.

4.4 Any investigation into allegations of potential malpractice will not influence or be influenced by any disciplinary, redundancy or other procedures that already affect you.

Confidentiality

5.1 All concerns will be treated in confidence and every effort will be made not to reveal your identity if you so wish. At the appropriate time, however, you may need to come forward as a witness.

ANONYMOUS ALLEGATIONS

6.1 This Code encourages you to put your name to your allegation whenever possible.

6.2 Concerns expressed anonymously are much less powerful but may be considered at the discretion of the School Governing Body or the Council.

6.3 In exercising this discretion the factors to be taken into account would include:

- the seriousness of the issues raised;
- the credibility of the concern;
- the likelihood of confirming the allegation from attributable sources; and
- whether the allegations are likely to have been made in good faith.

Untrue allegations

7.1 If you make an allegation in good faith, but it is not confirmed by the investigation, no action will be taken against you. If, however, you make an allegation frivolously, maliciously or for personal gain, disciplinary action may be taken against you.

How to raise a concern

8.1 As a first step, you should normally raise concerns with your tutor who will report the matter to the Line manager. However, if s/he is the potential transgressor you should raise your concern with the Directors.

8.2 You may wish to contact your trade union for advice and guidance.

8.3 Concerns may be raised verbally or in writing. Employees who wish to make a written report are invited to use the following format:

- The background and history of the concern (giving relevant dates).
- The reason why you are particularly concerned about the situation.

You should also, as far as possible, provide evidence to support your concern.

- The earlier you express the concern the easier it is to take action.

8.5 Although you are not expected to prove beyond doubt the truth of an allegation, you must act in good faith and you will need to demonstrate to the person contacted that there are reasonable grounds for your concern.

8.6 Advice and guidance on how matters of concern may be pursued can be obtained from Whamos Training and Development CIC or your trade union.

- If you feel unable or do not wish to discuss your concerns with the Whamos Training and Development CIC, you can contact a charity called “Public Concern at Work” which can provide free confidential advice on how an issue should be dealt with. Their telephone number is 0207 404 6609.
- You may wish to consider discussing your concern with a colleague first and you may find it easier to raise the matter if there are two (or more) of you who have had the same experience or concerns.
- You can be accompanied by your trade union, professional association representative or a friend during any meetings or interviews in connection with the concerns you have raised.

HOW WILL THE GOVERNING BODY OR THE COUNCIL RESPOND

9.1 If you have informed the Directors of Whamos Training and Development CIC of your concern, they will respond to your concerns. Do not forget that testing out your concerns is not the same as either accepting or rejecting them.

9.2 Where appropriate, the matters raised may;

- Be investigated by the directors
- Be referred to the external auditor;
- Be referred to the Police
- Form the subject of an independent inquiry
- In order to protect individuals and those accused of misdeeds or possible malpractice, initial enquiries will be made to decide whether an investigation is appropriate and, if so, what form it should take. The overriding principle, which the council will have in mind, is the public interest. Concerns or allegations which fall within the scope of specific procedures (for example child protection or discrimination issues) will normally be referred for consideration under those procedures.
- While the purpose of this Code is to enable the Directors to investigate possible malpractice and take appropriate steps to deal with it, the Directors will give you as much feedback as it properly can.
- Concerns or allegations which fall within the scope of specific procedures (for example grievance) will normally be referred for consideration under that relevant procedure. Some concerns may be resolved by agreed action without the need for investigation. If urgent action is required, this will be taken before any investigation is conducted.
- Usually within 10 working days of a concern being raised, the person looking into the concern will write to the person raising the concern:
- acknowledging that the concern has been received;

- indicating how the matter will be dealt with;
- giving an estimate of how long it will take to provide a full response;
- telling you whether any initial enquiries have been made;
- supplying information on support available to you; and
- saying whether further investigations will take place and if not, why not.
- The amount of contact between you and the person considering the issues will depend on the nature of the matters raised, the potential difficulties involved and the clarity of information provided. However, the person investigating the issues will be expected to keep you, the Directors informed of the progress of the matter on a monthly basis. If it is necessary to seek further information from you the investigating officer will do so without delay.
- Where any meeting is arranged, off-site if you so wish, you can be accompanied by a union or professional association representative or a friend.
- The Directors will take steps to minimise any difficulties that you may experience as a result of raising a concern. For instance, if you are required to give evidence in criminal or disciplinary proceedings Whamos Training and Development CIC will arrange for you to receive advice about the procedure.
- Whamos Training and Development CIC accept that you need to be assured that the matter has been properly addressed. Thus, subject to legal constraints and duties of confidentiality, you will be informed of the broad outcome of any investigation.
- At the end of the investigation process a questionnaire will be forwarded to you to ask for feedback on the process and your role in the same. You are asked to complete the same in order to enable future revisions of the code to be carried out effectively.
- If you are still not satisfied as to how your concern has been dealt with, you should refer to section 11.

The responsible officer

10.1 The Head of Safe Guarding/Director - has overall responsibility for the maintenance and operation of this Code. That officer maintains a record of concerns raised and the outcomes. The record is maintained in a form, which does not endanger the confidentiality of the person raising the concern or indeed that of any person against whom action is taken as a result of the concern being raised or relevant regulators. The Head of Safe Guarding/Director will report as necessary to the Directors in accordance with these principles on confidentiality.

10.2 The Head of Safe Guarding/Director will maintain a Whistleblowing Register containing all concerns and outcomes that are brought to his/her attention. All Directors allocated to look into the concern arising from or related to a school must ensure the Head of Safe Guarding/Director is provided with sufficient details of the concern and outcomes for Whamos Training and Development CIC register.

10.3 As soon as a complaint is received by the Directors, advice will be sought from the Human Resources provider. Whamos Training and Development CIC will ensure it has sufficient internal arrangements to address the requirements of this Code, including appropriate support for the Staff in implementing the Code and the Head of Safe Guarding/Director shall ensure that Human Resources are sufficiently trained to support in implementing this Code and offer training to Staff.

How the matter can be taken further

11.1 This Code is intended to provide you with an avenue within the school to raise concerns. Whamos

Training and Development CIC hopes you will be satisfied with any action taken. If you are not, and if you feel it is right to take the matter outside the training facility, the following are possible contact points:

- The designated independent organisation (Public Concern at Work);
- The external auditor;
- Your trade union;
- Your local Citizens Advice Bureau;
- Relevant professional bodies or regulatory organisations;

- A relevant voluntary organisation;
- The Police and/or Health and Safety Executive.
- The Council's Monitoring Officer.
- The Council's Internal Audit.
- Ofsted

11.2 Employees who are concerned about wrongdoing or failures can make disclosures to a person or body, which has been prescribed by the Secretary of State for the purpose of receiving disclosures about the matters concerned. An employee making such a disclosure should ensure that he or she:

- Is able to show that the disclosure was made in the reasonable belief that it was in the public interest;
- reasonably believes that the information, and any allegation it contains, are substantially true; and
- reasonably believes that the matter falls within the description of matters for which the person or body has been prescribed (for example, breaches of health and safety regulations can be brought to the attention of the Health and Safety Executive or appropriate local authority, or environmental dangers can be notified to the Environment Agency). Again, Public Concern at Work will be able to assist with details of the prescribed organisations and provide appropriate advice.

11.3 An employee who makes a disclosure about a relevant failure which is exceptionally serious will be protected if the employee:

- Is able to show that the disclosure was made in the reasonable belief that it was in the public interest;
- reasonably believes that the information disclosed, and any allegation contained in it, are substantially true; and
- does not act for personal gain.

It must be reasonable for the employee to make the disclosure in view of all the circumstances, having regard in particular to the identity of the person to whom the disclosure is made.

Before making disclosures externally the employee must reasonably believe that the information shows one or more of the following matters is either happening now, took place in the past, or is likely to happen in the future:

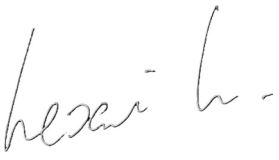

"□ a criminal offence;

- the breach of a legal obligation;
- a miscarriage of justice;
- a danger to the health or safety of any individual;
- damage to the environment;
- deliberate covering up of information tending to show any of the above five matters."

11.4 If you do take the matter outside of the Whamos Training and Development CIC, you should ensure that you do not disclose confidential information. If necessary, seek advice on this aspect.
